Sportster Engine Noise

-If the noise ceases immediately after the ignition is cut, it's a rod. - if the noise continues after the ignition is cut, and you can hear it while the cranks makes that last few revolutions while it is winding down.....it's a valve train noise. but if you only hear the noise when the engine is cold and at idle, it could also be a piston slap. let me know if you need more help.

3rd August 2010, 03:22. I've just got my '06 Sportster 883 XL with 7k miles on the clock. Bike runs great but has a ticking noise comming out from an engine (probably the front cylinder but it's hard to determine). The noise is constant, easy to recognize but not too loud. It is there all the time from the moment engine starts no matter if bike is cold or warm.

883 ticking noise, is it normal? [Archive] - The Sportster ...

It's not a major problem and the tapping noise will not harm the engine. To correct the problem? Wait until the engine needs a top-end overhaul then reset the valves in the cylinder head, replace the rocker arms, push rods and that should bring the engine valve train back into new condition.

How I solved my noisy valve train on my '92 Fatboy 1340 EVO engine. I have been chasing this problem for several months, and it was getting so my bike wasn't fun to ride anymore, as the engine noise seemed louder than my exhaust, especially when I have the windshield on, it tends to amplify all the sounds coming from the engine.

Harley Valve Train Noise - Capital Hosting

Every forum I have ever read says it is a perfectly normal noise for a Sporty. The gas tank is smaller so it doesn't block the engine noise as well. I changed to synthetic oil last year and it seemed to become more noticeable. Once again the forums say this is natural.

Whatever you do, never ever EVER use a motorcar synthetic engine oil on your Harley Davidson. Sure, at first, the engine will purr like a cat. Everything will be smooth for a month or two. However, after several months, the engine will become noisy - definitely not in a good way.

Which Engine Oil To Use For Harley Davidson Motorcycles ...

Turn on the ignition and press the starter button. Is the noise louder when you do this or is it louder when the engine is warm. If it's a head gasket, it should be louder when the engine is cold. The only thing on the upper left side of the engine is the rocker arms and valve springs.

Do a leak check around your intake first. At idle, spray a "Mist" not stream "like a cloud" of carb cleaner around the intake seal on behind the carb. Don't spray from the air cleaner side as it will suck into the air cleaner and give you a false positive. If you hear a change in engine idle, the seal needs replaced.
